Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Group I Figures 1A-3D

Group II Figure 4

Group III Figures 4A-5

Group IV Figures 6A-7B

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 22-40 appear to read only on Group I since claim 22 requires a fixing device which is automatically releasable under the action of the traction means when the window lifter is brought into operation. However, claim 33 can require the toothed region to be provided on the socket which is a feature only found in Group III. Claims 35 requires inclined planes which is a feature only found in Group IV.

None of the claims are considered to be generic.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the invention of Group I includes an insert part 15 and a hook 24 and detent 14a which automatically release upon the first operation of the deflection device. The invention of Group II requires a securing pin 5 which is removed manually after the deflection device is installed. The invention of Group III requires a toothed section mounted on the base plate 10 of the socket 1. Finally, the invention of Group IV requires inclined planes 18 and 28. The features of each of the Groups are exclusive to each said Group and are not interrelated.

A telephone call was made to D. Bruce Prout on November 4, 2008 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
